OVERCOMING CURRENT MALL PROTECTION & SAFETY ISSUES – THE WAY FORWARD

Webinar

(16 December 2020, Wednesday, 19:00-21:00)

ISCM is proud to invite Mr. Philip Curlewis, Chief Consultant – Consulting Office of Megastrength Security Services Co., Ltd., to present Overcoming Current Mall Protection & Safety Issues – The Way Forward.

Hong Kong has become a volatile & unstable environment, where polarization & conflict are more the norm, whilst traditional security & safety methods of deterrence & expected compliance are no longer effective.

The pandemic & the long-term prognosis means health mitigation practices needs to also be 're-imagined'.

The objective is to create an inviting mall environment which attracts visitors & gives them a strong sense of security & safety, so they can enjoy their experience.

SPEAKER'S PROFILE

Philip Curlewis has 38 years of global experience including high threat environments & conflict zones, providing protection, crisis management, emergency response & organization resilience services. He is a subject matter expert in multiple disciplines & is regularly invited to present at international forums/conferences. His written materials are used in a US university degree course & are published in peer publications.

He is Eurasian & fluently bilingual (English/Cantonese).

TOPIC OF DISCUSSION:

- Non-Confrontational Protest Mitigation & Suppression
- IED & Active Assailant emergency response processes within the new 'All hazards Emergency Response' approach.
- Pandemic & Covid-19 contamination prevention, mitigation & containment
- Viable New Technologies which create significant recurrent cost savings & potential revenue generation
