

Professional Certificate in Heritage Building Management 文物建築管理專業證書

The recognition of the value of heritage buildings in Hong Kong is relatively new. As such, the structure in place for meeting the management needs of these buildings is only starting to develop. How these buildings are managed is key to their sustainable existence into the future as important cultural landmarks.

The programme will prepare property managers to deal with the unique challenges in the management of heritage buildings, including materials conservation, repair, marketing, managing tourism and project procurement.

This programme is accredited* by the Hong Kong Institute of Architectural Conservacionists 香港建築文物保護師學會 (HKICON) for Associate Membership.
